Presents

Spring Market Faire Tour of Kitchens

*Monday,
April 29, 2019
10 a.m. to 2:45 p.m.*

Lois Conaway
1525 Fifth Ave.
York, PA 17403

Enjoy a spring day, bid farewell to the winter blues and treat yourself to an early Mother's Day gift by attending the AAUW Spring Market Faire Tour of Kitchens.

Visit five homes of various styles, from a mid-century home with fascinating miniatures, to a stone and stucco Tudor, to recently built traditional homes - all with great kitchens.

Observe a cooking demonstration by a local chef in each house and receive a taste of the selection along with a copy of the recipe.

Browse for gifts in shops owned by local women, purchase tasty homemade goodies, and register to win a lovely raffle basket.

Doesn't that sound like a pleasant way to spend a Monday? AND, all proceeds benefit local scholarships, the Young Women's Leadership Conference and the AAUW Fund.

Who are we? We are the York Branch of the American Association of University Women, a national organization of college-educated individuals.

What do we do? We advance equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, and research.

The kitchen tour funds a local graduate and an undergraduate scholarship, and we support the AAUW Fund. Go to york-pa.aauw.net for scholarship information.

But we are so much more!

We connect with our community through projects: Write-Read-Write with York city school children, the Young Women's Leadership Conference for seventh-grade girls in York County, and voter registration.

We have numerous interest groups: two book groups, supper club, a bridge group, day trips, game nights and a lunch group. It's easy to build friendships with women who have common interests.

When do we meet? 6:30 p.m. on 2nd Tuesday of each month, September - May at York Alliance Church on Rathton Road.

Who may join? We welcome anyone who holds an Associate, R.N., Baccalaureate or higher degree from an accredited college or university. Call Flo Kachurak (717) 741-0500 or Kay Roddy (717) 845-3759. Find out more at <http://york-pa.aauw.net>

The Kitchens

Joanne and Detlef Gerlach Strathcona Hills

A lovely kitchen, with white countertops and a soaring ceiling, is a highlight of this traditional home. Natural light pours in through the many windows. An adjacent dining area is perfect for breakfast or lunch.

Douglas Kauffman and Ron Rhodes Springdale Historic District

Enter this 1928 Tudor-inspired home through a turret. Lots of light and chic furnishings give this home a sophisticated air. The kitchen features painted cabinets and leather granite.

Nancy and Chuck Buckley New Brittany

This Cape Cod home was designed with grandchildren in mind. A highlight is custom-designed woodwork inspired by the owners' previous 19th Century home. The kitchen is warm and welcoming with a view of distant hills.

Becky and Mack Farquhar Hepplewhite Estates

Perfect for entertaining, the galley-style kitchen in this home has custom tile work and cabinets, a gas stove and three ovens. A hearth room adjoins the kitchen, and the home has solid walnut flooring.

Chris Snyder Haines Acres

This two-story brick home contains an extraordinary collection of dollhouses and miniature scenes. Every minute detail of every scene is just right. The updated kitchen is adjacent to the light-filled dining room.
